CRITERIA: While it is likely that in any cohort there will be several students whose performances were very good during the practicum, this recognition is for the rare, exceptional student teacher. To be eligible for this recognition a student teacher must have been a "super star." This student will have demonstrated outstanding instructional technique and consistently produced lessons that were creative and that ignited the imagination of the students concerned. This will be a person whose commitment to the students and to the school made him or her stand out. A person nominated will have made a significant impact on the school and on kids. [NOTES. It is quite possible that any Faculty Advisor may not have a candidate for this recognition as it is intended for exceptional students. Please do not tell any student that a nomination will guarantee recognition. All nominations will be adjudicated..]

Describe why this student should be considered for recognition for an exceptional extended practicum:
